

NOTICE

The Department of Human Services [DHS] has filed with the Court documents which they submit do or do not provide a basis for the Court to find compelling reasons either to authorize a Planned Permanent Living Arrangement or to relieve the State from its obligation to file a Petition to Terminate Parental Rights under the law.

If you disagree with the request of the DHS you may submit a written Motion or Report setting forth why you object and if you want a hearing to offer evidence or argument on why the decision sought by the DHS should not be granted.

If you agree with the request of the DHS or if you otherwise do not want to object you need not do anything. The Court will evaluate the documentation and request and, if it meets the requirements of the law, the relief sought by the DHS will be granted; if it does not meet the requirements of the law it will be denied. An order will be entered and sent to all parties setting forth this decision. If a hearing is requested the decision will not be made until the hearing date.

This Court cannot provide you with legal advice. If you have questions about your legal rights and obligations you should consult an attorney.
