

NINETEENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

COLUMBIA COUNTY VETERAN COURT, 230 Strand St., St. Helens, OR 97051

Summary

Columbia County Veteran Treatment Court (VTC) is a collaborative docket comprised of team members from each partner agency. The current partners are the Judge and assigned court staff from the Columbia County State Courts, Veterans Justice Outreach, Department of Community Justice, Columbia County District Attorney's Office, Veteran Peer Mentor Services, Columbia County Sheriff's Office, and the Justice Alliance of Columbia County.

The Veteran Treatment Court was created to provide a structured supervision and treatment program for defendants who are involved in the criminal justice system due to their untreated or unmanaged mental health concerns and possible co-occurring alcohol and other drug addictions. The goal is to help defendants get stable, so they can become healthier and be removed from the cycle of active symptomology, crime and justice system involvement.

Assigned members of this team meet regularly to case manage participants and provide accountability, regular services, referral and contact with each participant. The court docket is held regularly, with the ability to schedule appearances as needed to intervene in a timely fashion with participant infractions. The average length of stay in the Veteran Treatment Court program is 13-24 months but may be as long as 36 months.

Eligibility of your client's referral will be screened by the DA and defense attorney for case history, and Veterans Justice Outreach for mental health diagnosis and eligibility. The Veteran Treatment Court Team will determine whether a candidate is a good fit for VTC and will be accepted into the program.

Participants seen over the weekend must submit the form within 24 hours or first thing Monday morning.

If a participant is prescribed any medication, they must contact their treatment counselor immediately to gain authorization to fill the prescription. The treatment counselor will monitor the use of any medication during individual counseling sessions and report any abuse of the medication to the treatment court team.

Incentives and Sanctions

Incentives and sanctions are given by the Veteran Treatment Court team on an individual basis. The team will take many factors into consideration when implementing incentives and sanctions. The team will give an incentive for positive behaviors and achievements and can impose sanctions for negative behaviors and not achieving milestones in the program. Below is a list of achievements and choices that will cause the treatment court program to impose an incentive or a sanction.

Please contact the Veteran Treatment Court coordinator for information on bikes, gas and bus passes. Transportation to and from the Veterans Administration Hospital will be provided by the program on a daily basis.

- Participant will be maintaining contact with the assigned
- Participant will be maintaining contact with their clean and sober network

- Participant will have successfully completed all 5 phases of the Veteran Treatment Court Program

Termination

The program design is one which makes it difficult for a participant to leave the program. However, certain participant behaviors may cause the Judge to consider termination.

1. Behaviors that could result in termination include:
 - a. Warrants or new arrest of a significant crime such as a felony
 - b. Missing several uranalysis tests
 - c. Having multiple positive uranalysis tests
 - d. Altering a uranalysis test in any way
 - e. Chronic abuse of the rules such as failing to comply with the probation officer, coordinator, and treatment provider
 - f. Violence directed at anyone

Violations of program rules are typically addressed through a series of graduated sanctions that could eventually lead to termination. The participant has waived their right to the probation violation process; therefore, sanctions are given without a probation violation hearing. However, if the anticipated sanction is likely to proceed to termination from the program, the participant will be served with a probation violation and may exercise their right to a hearing.

A participant may also leave the program by choice. However, the participant is required to give the Judge a verbal report as to the reasons for leaving. The participant will also be required to serve the original jail/prison sentence.
