If you are deployed or about to be deployed, contact the Oregon State Bar Military Assistance Panel (www.osbar.org/docs/ris/militaryflier.pdf) for information about special rights and rules that may apply to you.

NOTE: If you only want to change child support, contact the Department of Justice, Division of Child Support (www.oregonchildsupport.gov).

What these forms do

This set of forms will help you to ask the court to change (‘modify’) support, custody, or parenting time if you already have a judgment from a court. If a change in custody or parenting time is ordered, the court may also change the amount of child support or end it.

- Military Deployment: If you need a modification because a parent is being deployed by the military, you must use a different packet of forms. Special rules and rights apply in those cases. Go to www.courts.oregon.gov/forms for the correct forms.
- Adult Children: If you have adult children 18, 19, or 20 years old, they are “necessary parties” to this case. They MUST be included as parties and properly sign all documents. If you fail to properly notify an adult child, your case may be delayed until you do. Talk to a lawyer if you have any concerns.
- Child Attending School: If you have an adult child (see above), the court may order child support for that child as long as the child is attending school. The court may order child support and medical support to be paid by either or both parents. There is NO parenting plan or parenting time credit for a Child Attending School. See ORS 107.108 for more information.

Information about Modifications

- Where to File - You normally should file in the circuit court that entered the judgment you are trying to modify.
 - Talk to a lawyer or court staff if you want your modification heard in a different county.
 - If you want to modify a judgment from another state, talk to a lawyer. Oregon courts may not be able to modify the judgment.
- Case Number –Your case number is the same as the one on your old judgment.
- Parties – The parties are the same as on the judgment you want to modify. If you were the “Respondent” in that case, then you are still the “Respondent” now.
 - If any of the children in your old judgment are now 18, 19, or 20 years old, you will need to add those children to the case as “necessary parties.”
- Contact Information - Keep the court and all other parties informed of your current address so you get notice of all court dates. You are not required to use your home address on any court form. You may use any contact address where you regularly check in, as long as it is in the same state as your home. If you use a contact address, the court will assume that you receive all papers sent to that address. It is YOUR responsibility to let the court and other parties know if you move or want to get mail at a different address.

STEP 1: FILLING OUT FORMS

Fill out the following forms:

- Stipulation to Modify Custody, Parenting Time, Child Support, Spousal Support and Supplemental Judgment
- Confidential Information Form (CIF) (one for each party)
- Notice of Filing of CIF
- Certificate of Mailing to DCS (if either parent is receiving public assistance and parties are requesting a change in child support)

Possible Attachments: Parenting Plan, Child Support Worksheets (required by UTCR if child support is involved)

Legal Issues to Consider:

Parenting Plan

A parenting plan is required if you want to change custody or parenting time. If you are only trying to change child support, you do not need to submit a parenting plan. The plan sets out the schedule and may include rules for each parent’s time with the child. You can describe your parenting plan in the Stipulation to Modify or attach it as a separate page.

Oregon has a Basic Parenting Plan Guide for Parents. This guide has information about how to develop a plan, information about alternative schedules, and stages of your children’s growth that should be considered when creating a plan. A sample parenting plan is included in the guide. The guide can be downloaded at www.courts.oregon.gov/parentingplans. There is also a Safety Focused Parenting Plan Guide on this website. This can help you develop a parenting plan if you have safety concerns for your children. Many local courts also have standard plans in their Supplemental Local Rules. Check your local court's website. You can use these plans whole or as a guide to develop your own. You can also use OJD Guide & File to create a parenting plan interactively. Go to www.courts.oregon.gov/iforms.

Moving

Neither parent may move more than 60 additional miles away from the other parent without giving him or her and the court notice of the move (unless your Judgment waived that requirement). You may ask the judge to waive this requirement by checking the appropriate box on the Motion.

Custody

Refer to ORS 107.137 for factors a court will consider in awarding custody. The most important factor is always the best interest and welfare of the child.

Child Support:

Calculating Child Support

Child support can only be changed if there has been a significant change of circumstances or a change in custody or parenting time since the original order.

The amount of child support is determined by the Child Support Guidelines. The Guidelines have worksheets to help you estimate what support may be ordered. The Division of Child Support (DCS) also has an interactive calculator at www.oregonchildsupport.gov that can give you an idea of what child support may be ordered. You may also be able to ask a facilitator at your local court for help estimating child support. Submit the worksheet or calculator printout with your forms.

➤ NOTE: If you request a child support amount that is different from what the calculator or worksheet says, you must explain why and how you reached that amount. If not, your case may be delayed until you provide an explanation for the difference.

Payment of Child Support

Support is usually withheld from the payor's (the person who has to pay support) paycheck. The court may allow an exception to the income withholding requirement if you qualify under ORS 25.396 and if you request an exception. If the court grants an exception to income withholding, payment can be deposited into the receiver's bank account. If you are paying child support directly to the other parent, you should keep proof of every payment, including a receipt if you pay cash.

Health Insurance

The judgment must address health insurance for any minor child involved in your case if your existing order does not.

Cash Medical Support

In addition to child support, the court may order "Cash Medical Support." Cash Medical Support is to help pay for health insurance and out-of-pocket medical expenses.

If neither parent has health insurance available, the court must order Cash Medical Support unless the judge finds reasons not to. The judge cannot order Cash Medical Support in some situations.

Life Insurance

Life insurance orders can be modified by either party if child support or health insurance orders are being changed (including division of uninsured medical expenses),

Life insurance orders can also be modified by the party currently ordered to keep a life insurance policy for the benefit of the children under the following circumstances:

- When the paying parent retires
- Once every 5 years after the paying parent reaches 60 years of age
- If the lowest premium available costs more than 50% of the monthly support payment
- If the benefits paid would be more than twice the total remaining support amount
- If the paying parent has established an appropriate trust for 125% of the total support amount that would have been paid after the paying parent's death

Adult Children (18-21)

If the parties have any joint child who is 18, 19, or 20 years old who is not married or emancipated, that child is a necessary party to this case. He or she must be added as a party in the case caption and has the right to participate.

If an adult child is attending school at least half-time according to the school's standards, that child is considered a "child attending school." A child attending school is entitled to child support until age 21. The child must sign the judgment if support is ordered.

Have your documents reviewed

You may want to have your documents reviewed before you file. For information about how to find a lawyer, call the Oregon State Bar at the number on Page 1. If you are low-income, you might be able to get your documents reviewed for a smaller fee through the Oregon State Bar's Modest Means program. Your local Legal Aid office might review documents for free if you qualify. Facilitators are available for free at the Lane County Circuit Court, but you have to make an appointment. Contact the Family Court Assistance Office by phone at 541-682-4302 or email at LANFamilycourt@ojd.state.or.us to schedule an appointment.

Make copies

Make one copy of all of the forms for your records, and one copy for the other party.

If you or the other party are receiving public assistance (in relation to a child) and you are seeking a change in child support, you must also serve by mail or personally deliver a copy of the Motion and Declaration to the Administrator of the Division of Child Support (Division of Child Support, Department of Justice, 165 E. 7th Avenue, Suite 300, Eugene, Oregon 97401). Fill out and file the Certificate of Mailing or Delivery to DCS after you mail or deliver the copy of the Stipulation to Modify. You must serve a copy of the proposed Supplemental Judgment at least 14 days before you submit the papers to the Court.

STEP 2: FILING AND RESOLVING YOUR CASE

File your forms

Once the forms are complete and signed by both parties, the forms must be submitted to the Court and signed by a Judge. Lane County Supplementary Local Rule (SLR) 2.501 sets forth the procedure for presenting this type of Judgment to a Judge for signature. There may be a filing fee. Contact the Family Court Assistance Office for current information about fees and the process for presenting the forms to a Judge and filing with the Court.

Phone: 541-682-4302

Email: LANFamilycourt@ojd.state.or.us

THE JUDGMENT

➤ NOTE: The judgment finalizes your case and contains all of the issues decided through your agreement. If both parties agree on all issues, it may be prepared by either party as long as it is reviewed and signed by both parties.

Your modification is effective the date the Judgment is signed by a judge and enforceable the date it is entered into the court register. You will receive a notice when the judgment is entered.

The terms of child support and parenting time (visitation) are designed for the child's benefit and not the parents' benefit. You must pay support even if you are not receiving parenting time. You must comply with parenting time and visitation orders even if you are not receiving child support.

Violation of child support orders and visitation or parenting time orders is punishable by fine, imprisonment or other penalties.

Publicly funded help is available to establish, enforce, and modify child support orders. Paternity establishment services are also available. Contact your local district attorney, the domestic relations court clerk, or the Department of Justice at 1.800.850.0228 or 503.378.5567 for information.

Publicly funded help may be available to establish, enforce, and modify parenting time or visitation orders. Forms are available to enforce parenting time or visitation orders. Contact the domestic relations, civil court clerk or courthouse facilitator for information.

NOTICE ABOUT PERIODIC REVIEW AND MODIFICATION OF CHILD SUPPORT ORDERS

If your child support case is handled by the District Attorney or the Department of Justice Division of Child Support, this agency will review your child support order if at least three years have passed since the order was entered, modified, or last reviewed. This review will take place only if a parent requests.

The purpose of the review is to see if the amount ordered is still within the guidelines for child support set out in Oregon law. The review could result in an increase or decrease in the support amount, depending on the parents' financial circumstances and the needs of the child.

This "periodic review" service is provided at no cost to parents, but is available only for cases handled by the District Attorney or the Department of Justice.

The support agency handling your case will also review your support order for compliance with the guidelines whenever a substantial change in circumstance has occurred. You can request this "change in circumstance" modification from the support agency. But any support order (not just orders handled by the District Attorney or Department of Justice) can be modified because of a change in circumstance, so a private attorney is also able to assist you with this. You may also represent yourself.

5. Any terms in the prior Judgment not changed by this Supplemental Judgment remain in effect.

6. Court Costs and Fees (whether paid or deferred)

- Each party is responsible for paying his or her own costs and fees

As required by UTCR 2.130, a Confidential Information Form (CIF) has been completed for each party and filed with the court. The CIF contains all information required by ORS 25.020(8)(a).

Both parties must inform the Court and the Department of Justice (P.O. Box 14506, Salem, Oregon 97309) in writing of any change in the information within ten (10) days of such change. The Department of Justice or the District Attorney shall not disclose the information in the preceding section to the other party.

Information about the Confidential Information Form (CIF)

What is a CIF?

Most court files may be viewed by the public. Uniform Trial Court Rule (UTCRC) 2.130 requires certain confidential personal information to be protected from public disclosure. That is done by providing the information in a separate form. After you file your papers, the court keeps the form separate from the part of the court file that may be viewed by the public. The form is UTCRC Form 2.130.1, known as the Confidential Information Form, or CIF.

What information does a CIF make confidential?

The information protected by the CIF is social security numbers, birth dates, driver license numbers, and former legal names. Also protected are the name, address, and telephone number of a party's employer.

The CIF should only be used to protect the information described above. There may be other information in your court papers that you do not want the public to be able to see, such as bank account or credit card numbers. The separate process for protecting that information is described in UTCRC 2.100, which can be read at:

How do I know when I need to put information in the CIF?

When a document filed with the court requires you to include information protected by a CIF, that information must only be provided to the court in a CIF and must not be listed in any other document to be filed. Where you would otherwise provide the information in the document to be filed you must make a note that the information has been provided in the CIF. For example, if a document requires a party's full social security number to be listed, you must not list the social security number, but must instead make a note on the document that the information has been filed under UTCRC 2.130. The online court forms already have that note on the form.

Do I need to file more than one CIF?

In most cases, yes. You must fill out a CIF for yourself, and if the documents you are filing with the court require confidential personal information about the other party, you must also fill out a separate CIF with the other party's information. If your case involves children, you should include their information in your CIF. You do not need a separate CIF for your children.

If there is CIF information you do not know when you file your papers, or if the information changes during your case, you must file an amended CIF that provides the new or updated information.

The CIF rule requires you to redact – black out or erase – confidential personal information from any attachments to documents you file with the court and to make a note on the attachment that the information has been provided in the CIF. The only exception is when you are required to attach a court-certified document. Documents that are required to be court certified should not be altered in any way.

Does the other party get copies of a CIF I file?

You are not required to serve the CIFs on the other party, though you may share a CIF with the other party if you chose to do so. You are required to serve the other party with UTCR Form 2.130.2, which is a notice that a CIF has been filed. You must also file a certificate with the court showing that you served the other party with the notice that a CIF was filed.

There are steps the other party and other people can go through to ask the court to allow them access to a CIF that you have filed. UTCR 2.130 explains that process in detail, and also describes the circumstances under which the court must deny a request by someone else to view a CIF you have filed.

The CIF rule (UTCR 2.130) can be read at:
